BOILERPLATE (APPROVED FOR EDITORIAL USE)

Artane Partners is an Ireland-registered capital advisory firm and placement agent headquartered at 13 Adelaide Road, Dublin 2. The firm advises established companies across Europe, the UK and the US on raising debt and equity capital, and introduces them to investors across the Gulf Cooperation Council, including sovereign wealth funds, family offices and institutional allocators. Artane Partners represents the company raising capital and runs the process end to end; it is not an investor or fund manager and never takes custody of investor funds. LEADERSHIP

Clinton Apos

Founder & Chief Executive Officer

Clinton Apos is the founder and chief executive of Artane Partners, the Ireland-registered capital advisory firm and placement agent based in Dublin. He founded the firm in 2024 to give established Western companies a credible, relationship-led route to capital from investors across the Gulf Cooperation Council.

He studied at Trinity College Dublin and began his career in investment banking at Rubicon Capital Advisors. At Artane Partners he leads origination and investor coverage from Dublin, working directly with operators, fund managers and institutional allocators across the Gulf, from the first conversation to completion.

His view of the work is straightforward: durable cross-border capital raising rests on trusted relationships, with disciplined preparation and rigour serving as the proof underneath. Under his direction, Artane Partners represents the company raising capital and runs the process end to end.
